

G&L Scientific boosts European presence with new Director

G&L Scientific's global expansion continues with the appointment of a dedicated Director of Regulatory Affairs in our Barcelona office.

Nativitat (Nati) Vives has over 20 years' experience in Regulatory Affairs and is recognised as a leading Project Manager and Drug Development Consultant.

Regarded as an expert on Marketing Authorization procedures and with extensive experience of EU health authority interactions, in particular with Spanish and Portuguese agencies, Nati is an exciting new addition to G&L's global team.

She brings with her a wealth of knowledge and insights across a range of disciplines including the design of quality studies, pre-clinical studies and clinical trials, end-to-end Veterinary drug development and project management, and MAA submissions.

Welcoming Nati to G&L Scientific, Atul Sharma from the EU leadership team, said:

"G&L Scientific is very excited to have Nati on-board and representing us in Europe from our new office in Barcelona.

"Nati is a real asset to our global offering and will be integral to our continued growth across Spain, Portugal and wider Europe.

"Her understanding and experience of European markets combined with her reputation for attention to detail and professionalism will ensure G&L remains at the forefront of Regulatory Affairs across the continent."

Nati Vives said:

"I am delighted to take up my new role with G&L Scientific and look forward to working with this exciting, progressive company as it grows and expands into new markets."
